Senior Vice President and General Counsel
The Office of Senior Vice President and General Counsel manages and supervises all legal affairs for the University. The General Counsel serves as the legal officer to the Board of Governors and the University by providing legal advice to the President, Board of Governors, and administration on a broad array of legal issues and represents the University in all legal proceedings. https://generalcounsel.rutgers.edu/

University Policy Library
Most Rutgers University policies can be found in the University Policy Library on the web, which is the official source for the policies governing the academic, administrative, operational, and business affairs of the University. The library holds policies in the following ten functional-based sections: academic; administrative; public safety; financial management; governance and legal matters; human resources; information technology; university relations; research; and clinical, compliance, ethics and corporate integrity. http://policies.rutgers.edu

University Indemnification Policy – Section 50.3.3
The University Indemnification Policy provides that Rutgers shall defend and indemnify, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any officer or employee acting as an agent of the University for any act or omission arising out of and in the course of the performance of the duties of his or her office, position or employment with the University. The full text of the University Indemnification Policy can be found at: http://policies.rutgers.edu/view-policies/governance-legal-matters-%E2%80%93-section-50#3

Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action – Section 60.1.8
It is the policy of Rutgers to make the benefits and services of its educational programs available to students, and to provide equal employment opportunity to all employees and applicants for employment, regardless of race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, disability, atypical cellular or blood trait, marital status, civil union status, domestic partnership status, military service, veteran status, or any other category protected by law. The current University Policy on Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action is found at: http://policies.rutgers.edu/view-policies/human-resources-hr-%E2%80%93-section-60
Labor Issues
The Office of Academic Labor Relations provides advice on faculty labor issues. The Office of Labor Relations provides advice on staff labor issues. Various policies related to faculty and staff employment issues can be found at the following sites:

As part of its commitment to fostering an academic and work environment that is free from sexual harassment, Rutgers offers an interactive online course which educates employees on preventing sexual harassment in the workplace and on campus. The purpose of the course is to help employees recognize and respond to situations that may involve sexual harassment, as well as understand how to handle complaints of sexual harassment appropriately. Detailed information about this online course can be found at: http://uhr.rutgers.edu/uhr-units-offices/office-employment-equity/unlawful-harassment-prevention-program

Policy Prohibiting Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence, Relationship Violence, Stalking and Related Misconduct by Employees and Third Parties – Section 60.1.28
This policy deals exclusively with complaints by members of the University community who believe they have been subjected to sexual harassment, sexual violence, relationship violence, stalking and other related sexual misconduct by either a university employee (including student employee) or third party doing business with the university. It is important to note that under the policy, any university employee, including TAs, who is not designated as a confidential resource is obligated to forward any reports received by students of a possible violation of this policy to the University Title IX Coordinator. The policy lists definitions of the prohibited conduct, options for reporting (including confidential resources), and information on the investigation process. The policy also sets forth the University’s policy on romantic relationships between employees and between employees and students, which are required to be reported where an employee is involved in a romantic or sexual relationship with another student or employee over whom they have supervisory or educational responsibility. The current policy can be found at: http://policies.rutgers.edu/sites/policies/files/00004538.PDF

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (“FERPA”)
FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their "education records." Generally, education records are all “those records that are (1) directly related to a student; and (2) maintained by an educational agency or institution or by a party acting for the agency or institution.” (citations omitted) These rights include the following:

1. The student has the right to inspect and review his/her education records within 45 days of the date Rutgers receives a proper request for access to such records.

2. The student has the right to request amendment of education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

3. Rutgers shall obtain the prior consent of the student before disclosing personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent (for example of so-called “directory information”, see:
http://compliance.rutgers.edu/ferpa/confidentiality)

4. The student may direct complaints concerning the alleged failure of Rutgers to comply with the requirements of FERPA to the Office of Student Affairs Compliance.
